

Values Exercise

TDC
LIFE ACADEMY

Values are your moral compass; guiding/unchanging principles which dictate how you live your life and make decisions including establishing goals, deciding between right and wrong, determine what we believe, how we think, act, and speak. Values provide us with purpose, meaning, fulfillment and significance to what we do and what we stand for as we interact and impact others.

While personal values can change over time in response to changing life experiences; and be aspirational, core values remain unchanging.

Personal Values: lessons learned from life's trials and tribulation

Core Values: Embedded during our initial upbringing; emanates from the center of who we are and what is most important to us

Values assist you in making vital life decisions and provide motivation in life. They help you determine what is important. Goals and purposes are established through values and having values and honoring them gives life fulfillment.

Below is a comprehensive list of values. While a definition is provided, it is important to articulate what the value means to you personally. Use the worksheets attached to help you identify your personal/core values.

STEP 1

Instructions: Review the list of values. Try to narrow down to no more than 5 values that really resonate with you. In Column A: List out those values. In Column B: Describe what that value means to you.

	A. Value/Trait	B. Definition: What does it mean to you?
1
2
3
4

STEP 2

Instructions: Review the list of values you selected in step one. It's important to consider the differences between your perceived level of importance of the value and your actual level of practice in your daily life. Rate each question for each value to determine if those values you selected are truly ones you practice in your life. After thoughtful consideration, see if you need to further narrow your list of values.

Rating: 1=Strongly Disagree / 2=Disagree / 3=Neutral / 4=Agree / 5=Strongly Agree

	Value 1	Value 2	Value 3	Value 4	Value 5
I chose this value freely from a list of alternatives, only after thoughtful consideration to the consequences of each alternative.
I chose this value because other people would be upset with me if these values were not important to me.
I chose this value because I would feel guilty or ashamed if these values were not important to me.
These values are important to me whether or not others agree; I prize and cherish these values and am willing to publicly affirm them, when appropriate.
Living consistently with these values makes my life more meaningful
I act on the value repeatedly in some pattern and consistency.
I experience fun and enjoyment when I live consistently with these values
